GOING UP

In 1953, Sir Edmund Hillary and Tenzing Norgay climbed to the top of Mount Everest. The next challenge was to climb it without bottled oxygen. This was the goal of Austrian climbers Peter Habbler and Reinhold Messner. Doctors said they were crazy and told them not to try it. They tried it anyway. On 8 May, 1978, they were about 800 metres from the top of Everest. They woke at 3 a.m. and began preparing. It took them two hours to get dressed. Every breath was precious and they used their hands to communicate. Climbing was slow, Messner thought he was going to burst like a balloon. At 8.800 metres, they stopped and lay down every few steps because of the lack of oxygen. But between one and two in the afternoon they achieved their 'impossible' goal. They reached the top of Mount Everest without oxygen.

GOING DOWN

Most people can hold their breath long enough to dive to the bottom of the swimming-pool, but on 17 August 2002, Tanya Streeter went a lot, lot deeper. The 29-year-old held her breath for 3 minutes 26 seconds and became the world free-diving champion. She dived 160 metres below the surface of the sea (that's further than 3 football pitches). During the dive her lungs shrank to the size of oranges. Her heart slowed to fifteen beats a minute and she sang her national anthem in her head to control her fear. Tanya says that her mental strength is more important than her physical strength. 'I am a very determined person. When I decide to do something, I do it. Redefine your limits is my motto.'

to shrink, shrank, shrunk = to get smaller

Read the text again. Mark the statements true (T), false (F) or doesn't say (DS).

1	Habeler and Messner didn't listen to their doctors.
2	It took them two hours to go 800 metres.
3	The main problem was breathing.
4	They were given an award for their achievement.
5	Tanya Streeter holds the world record for holding her breath.
6	She has a good trainer.
7	She was afraid during her dive.
8	She didn't know how to control her fear.
9	She feels that being physically strong isn't the most important thing.

IX. Read the text and complete the sentences by writing the missing words on the lines below the text. Use only one word for each space. (10p)

Behind the Scenes

The London Aquarium has one of the largest collections of fish and sea creatures in Britain. It employs many people to make sure everything is just right for our animals. Each day one person prepares 1 food and feeds the fish. He prepares all sorts of food, including fresh banana 2 the fruit eaters. This isn't just because that's what the fish like; it's important that 3 get all the vitamins 4 minerals they need and that they would get in the wild. We also check, how warm the water is and how salty in order 5 make it as close to home 6 possible. The fish don't eat 7 the food we give them 8 we need to remove what's left to stop the water 9 getting dirty. Several large pumps constantly take water from the tanks and clean 10 to get rid of this food and other waste in the tank. The same water then goes back into the tank.
